	Read the following statement and answer the following questions	Marks	CO
Q .12	Imagine you are a talented musician who has worked hard to develop your skills. You have just released a music album that has become a huge commercial success, earning you a significant amount of money. However, the government decides to impose a high tax on your earnings, with the intention of redistributing the wealth to support social welfare programs for the less fortunate. From Nozick's entitlement theory perspective, would this tax be justified? Critically examine would Nozick argue for or against the government's action, and what implications would this have for individual rights and liberties?	25	CO4
Q.13	A local government has passed an ordinance that prohibits the display of any material deemed "offensive" or "insulting" to certain groups or individuals in public spaces. The ordinance is intended to promote social harmony and prevent hurt feelings. However, it has been criticized for restricting freedom of speech and expression, as it could be used to suppress dissenting voices and artistic expression. From John Stuart Mill's conception of freedom of speech and expression, examine how would you evaluate the justification of this ordinance, and what principles would guide your decision-making?	25	CO4
