This research study is on development of Asian Gas Grid connecting gas rich countries with growing demand centers of Asia like India, China etc. The proposed grid would be able to fulfill the need of clean fuel to the region. This study largely relates to what I have learnt while working in my Organization (GAIL India Ltd) besides my interaction with many people in the Oil & Gas industry.

I am deeply indebted to my guides in the study Dr. U D Choubey, Chairman & Managing Director, GAIL and Dr. Parag Diwan, University of Petroleum & Energy Studies (UPES) for providing me with valuable insights and time-to-time guidance on the subject. I would like to thank Dr. Vikas Prakash, University of Petroleum & Energy Studies for guiding me on various requirements of the study.

I would also like to thank all my seniors and colleagues. I thank Mr. Santiram Mandal, Mr. L Somasundaram, Mr. S C Ray, Mr. V. Mudgal and Mr. J K Pandey of GAIL, students of UPES Mr. Ashish Chaudhary, Mr. Jasvinder, Mr. Punish Garg and Mr. Ramakrishna for helping to gather information from various sources related to the study.

I acknowledge the contributions of Brig. (retd.) Mehta for sharing his experiences in geo-political studies. I extend special thanks to Ms Shebonti Ray Dadwal of Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses (IDSA), Delhi, for the time to time directions on the relationship of various countries of AGG and energy scenario thereof. I am grateful to Mr. Alok Gupta, Mr. Pankaj Mathur and his team of JPAC Technology, Delhi for helping in development of the Pipeline Analysis & Design software ("Green Corridor"). I am also thankful to Mr. K V Rao of Asian Development Bank for providing useful insights on Project Financing aspects.

Finally, I am indebted to my wife Vidushi and my sons Tanay and Pranay, without whose patience and perseverance, this work would not have been completed.
