Gratitude and thanks to my wife who accompanied me in this journey and encouraged me to take the first step. We enjoyed the residencies together and met many nice people in India and had side travel in a very beautiful and culture rich country.

Special thanks to my advisor and guide Dr. Shailendra Kumar Pokhriyal and co-guide Dr. Geo Jos Fernandez who helped me through the development of this work, motivated my efforts and kept me energized to take it through to the end. Without their support, a quit call in the back of my head would've been succeeded. But thank God they were there. I do also thank Dr. Sudhesh Govindavilas, who gave me the first inspiration and was always available to help and give the right advice, material, conferences and experience in academics and industrial arenas. Thanks to ADMA-OPCO Management who supported this study and the use of the Company library, studies, consultants' reports and secondary and primary information and analytics.

Thank you to the University of Petroleum and Energy Studies (Staff and Administration) for the wonderful support, ideas, guidance in the research and for clarity of the program. Thanks to all the Faculty Research Committees who guided the work with great academic and professional advice. Special thanks are given to the staff of UPES Library who facilitated my access to the world record of information and data in a seamless manner. Thank you to UPES data center for the prompt help in accessing the Internet which eased our communication needs. Thanks to the staff and employees of Management Development Center for their kind services and generosity and hospitality. We enjoyed our stay and the North Indian cuisine.
